Elmbrook School District Enrollment Increases

By Eric Hagen

The District's total student enrollment of 7,700 continues to climb, nearing projections and already exceeding last year's enrollment by more than 400 students. In the first two weeks of August alone, the District welcomed 74 students and their families as residents move into the Elmbrook Community and complete their enrollments. Including 4-year-old and 5-year-old Kindergarten students, as well as move-ins, the District has more than 1,300 new students this year.

Superintendent Mark Hansen noted, "The School District of Elmbrook continues to be a destination District for families who seek a high-quality education with endless opportunities. I am excited for the (new) school year... (we welcomed) all of our students back to school on September 1.

In February 2021, the District projected enrollment for the 2021-2022 school year to be 7,755, a number that could be exceeded by the official enrollment count date in September. Even without the addition of its 4-year-old Kindergarten program, the District (was) expected to exceed last year's enrollment by 75-100 students. An accurate projection supports a detailed budget and staffing plan and is critical to the District's long-term success. The District's current resident enrollment totals are the highest in the 21st century, and were last seen in 1981.

Changes to Elm Grove's 2021 Property Tax Collection Process Announced

(ELM GROVE) The Village of Elm Grove's tax collection process has changed for the 2021 tax season. After the 2020 tax collection, Town Bank informed the Village that they will no longer be able to provide tax collection services out of their Elm Grove branch.

On April 13, 2021, Village staff met with Town Bank to discuss tax collection. Town Bank determined they no longer wish to accept tax payments at the local branch; this includes the giving of receipts. Town Bank offered 3 options to the Village: Have the Village collect 100% of the tax bills; Have Waukesha County collect the tax bills; or Utilize a Town Bank partnered Lockbox out of Milwaukee.

These options were based on the assumptions that 2,124 tax payments were taken by the branch over a 6-8 week period of time. They equated 177 hours associated with tax bill processing and cited a lack of teller vacation time at the end of the year and COVID-19 restrictions with social distancing.

Village Clerk Michelle Luedtke and Finance Director Monica Hughes took this item to the Administrative and Personnel Committee on May 13. The Committee agreed with the recommendation for the Waukesha County Treasurer to collect 2021 taxes.

If the Village Hall receives any tax payments, they will be forwarded to the County. Receipts will be available online 3-5 days after Waukesha County receives the payment. Waukesha County will automatically send a receipt to each resident by mail. This information will also be provided in the tax insert.

Brookfield High School Class of 1961 Holds Reunion

By Elisabeth Passalis-Bain elmgrovenews@yahoo.com

After 6 months of thoughtful planning, Dean Moede’s mission to coordinate a 60th Reunion of his Brookfield High School Class of 1961 has achieved by all counts nothing short of an A+.

Of the 240 class members of BHS, the only Elmbrook district high school that existed prior to the creation of Brookfield East, more than 40 travelled from locations far and near to attend a 4-day celebration, September 22 – 25. There was an evening gathering for a presentation by historian Stephen K. Hauser; “Class of 1961 Day” proclamations from the City and Town of Brookfield and Elm Grove; breakfast and dinners at 4 different local restaurants, including Marty’s Pizza “an old Class of ’61 hangout”; and an exciting Brookfield Central vs. Marquette football game at which class members received enthusiastic cheers from the crowd. Attendees also took a special campus tour of Brookfield Central High School (formerly BHS) and discovered that it had certainly changed in many ways, but then so had they.

Moede, now living 100+ miles north in Menasha, Wisconsin, said, “It was a great, great weekend! After 60 years, although we might not all have known each other that well in high school, we are tightly bound now.”

Some of the reunion group attend a presentation by historian Steven K. Hauser (standing, fourth from left) at the Regal Crest Condos in Brookfield. A special guest who travelled from Houston, Texas stands (at far left) with his sister Donna Galletin Lautzenhiser of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, who was born and raised near Ruby Farms in Brookfield and remembers the famous six-horse hitch at Jake Ruby’s Barn.

Class of 1961 members stand side-by-side at the September 24th Brookfield Central vs. Marquette football game. Prior to Kick-off, they received a rousing welcome from the crowd. “It was heart-warming!” noted Dean Moede.

Village Update

By Neil Palmer, President – Village of Elm Grove npalmer@elmgrovetwi.org

Paving on Highland Drive has been completed and thanks to a significant drop in the price of asphalt we were able to pave Upper & Lower Ridgeway and Meadow Lane. The Village Public Works staff and Public Works Committee have been working hard this year to create a road repair/paving priority list and the Village staff and Finance Committee and Board have been exploring alternative financing options. This work also includes pricing of new pathways. The Ad hoc Pathway Committee will meet soon to continue prioritizing recommendations for construction of new pathways.

The Village Board Finance Committee has begun the annual work to craft a proposed Village Budget for next year. The Village staff has submitted capital and operating budget proposals as the starting point for the Committee. Following Finance Committee work the Village Board will review and act to approve the 2022 budget package. Dates and times for budget discussions are available online and are open to the public to observe.

REMINDER: The hours of operation for the Village recycling yard change beginning October 15th. Fall hours are 9:00 to 5:00 Monday through Friday, 8:00 to 4:00 on Saturday and 12:00 to 4:00 on Sunday.

Residents can deliver leaves to the recycling center; bags must be emptied. If you prefer to have your yard leaves picked up by the recycling contractor the bags MUST have a Village sticker, which are available at Village Hall for $1.00, including a bag. Bags are collected on your normal garbage/recycling pickup day, but leaf bags must be moved to the end of your driveway at the street.

Please remember not to rake leaves into the ditch along the road where they can clog the drainage systems.

Village Park and swimming pool activity numbers returned to nearly normal this summer and the first summer of operation of the Splash Pad was a big success. The first summer of Beer Garden operations have operated smoothly and experienced good attendance so far. The Beer Garden is scheduled to operate until October 24th.

Fall Recreation guides are available and online signups will use the new registration software.

The annual Oktoberfest celebration in the Village Park (September 17-18) enjoyed beautiful weather and very good attendance. Thanks are due to all the volunteers helping the Elm Grove Community Foundation pull this off.

Review of the request to redevelop the School Sister of Notre Dame campus is continuing. Village financial consultants at Ehlers and Associates are finalizing the analysis of the project costs and finances needed to consider the request for Tax Incremental Financing to assist financing. The project developer has requested funding assistance for site demolition costs, environmental remediation, historic build preservation, extension of Lake Michigan water supply from Wauwatosa and underground parking. When finalized, the report will be distributed to the Finance Committee and Board of Trustees for discussion. Also nearing completion is a proposed Development Agreement, which is a proposed contract between the Village and the developer which identifies all commitments, schedules and actions related to the proposed redevelopment of the campus. A public hearing will be scheduled as soon as the financial report and the Development Agreement are available for public review.

The Village lost two long term volunteers in the past month with the passing of Chuck Long and Jim Jodie. All of us who had the honor of knowing and working with Chuck and Jim will miss their friendship and their help.

Halloween Memories

By Tom Ramstack

When we were kids living in New Berlin during the 1960s, as Halloween approached, we always looked forward to "trick or treat." There was something spooky and yet thrilling about being little boys wandering around the neighborhood carrying our paper grocery bags in the dark of night. In those days, spraying your father's shaving cream over a neighbor's picture window was the typical "trick" of choice. Our brother Mike always did the deed as he was the oldest. He would spray it all over a neighbor's window and then we would all run off in all directions as if our lives were at stake. The next morning when dad asked, "Any of you boys seen my shaving cream?" we would all just shrug our shoulders acting as if we didn't know what he was talking about.

Back in the 1930s in Elm Grove, dad, as a young boy, would wander off with his young teenage buddies from our Ramstack's Tavern (now O'Donoghue's Irish Pub) while next door, at Reusch's Tavern (now Silver Spur), out popped young Teddy Reusch who wanted to join in the fun with the other boys. In those days the "prank" of choice was tipping over outhouses and that's just what they did. Dad & his buddies quietly snuck across the Plank Road where they found Mr. and Mrs. Woelfel's outhouse standing tall behind their house. To tip it over, they had to rock it back and forth a couple of times. Finally, over it went, except young Teddy slipped and fell deep down into the "aromatic" pit. He began whining, "Hey guys help me out of here!!!" The fellows up above stared into each other's eyes really not wanting to reach down into the stink, so they quietly slipped away into the night, leaving poor young Teddy yelling up from below, "Oh, come on guys, don't leave me down here!!!" Later, as the gang broke up for the night, dad arrived at home and curling up in his bed, upstairs in the tavern, he began feeling a little guilty, wondering if poor ole' Teddy was still stuck down in that foul-smelling pit.

BEHS Announces National Merit Semifinalist

(BROOKFIELD) Brookfield East is proud to announce that 12 members of the senior class have earned the distinction of National Merit Semifinalist for the 2021-22 school year. The students include: Jane Atkinson, Henry Irwin, Manal Nazir, Claire Peplinski, Zane Rothe, Carter Shulick, Alina Stulenau, Joseph Walters, Carrie Wang, Angelica Yang, Alan Zhong, and Reina Zhou.

Recognition for this great achievement is based on a student’s performance on the PSAT exam taken during their junior year. These students rank among the best in Wisconsin and the United States, with their PSAT exam scores in the top 16,000, representing less than 1% of 1.5 million United States high school seniors according to the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

National Merit semifinalists have the opportunity to continue in the competition for some 8,700 scholarships worth more than $40 million, which will be announced in the spring. About 15,000 semifinalists are expected to be notified in February that they have advanced to the finalist round, from which the 2,500 winners of $2,500 National Merit Scholarships will be chosen.

Distinguished Young Women of Wisconsin Competition Held

(BROOKFIELD) In August 2021, Brookfield Central Senior Cynthia Lu competed virtually in the Distinguished Young Women (DYW) of Wisconsin scholarship program and was named DYW of WI 2022. In an unprecedented accomplishment, Cynthia earned scholarship awards in all five categories of the competition: Scholastics, Interview, Fitness, Talent, and Self Expression.

Cynthia will represent both Brookfield and the state of Wisconsin at the National Finals in Mobile, Alabama in June 2022.

Additionally, Jane Atkinson (BEHS ‘22) represented Elm Grove at the state competition, earning awards in scholastics and talent and was also named 1st alternate. Both girls earned cash scholarship awards for post-graduation use.

Simran Bhatia, a Brookfield Academy 11th grader, won the Wisconsin Girls State Chess Championship earlier this year and represented Wisconsin in the National Girls Tournament of Champions in July. She had an impressive 10th place finish in the national tournament.

More than 1.5 million juniors in about 21,000 high schools entered the 2022 National Merit Scholarship Program. These students will advance in the process and have the possibility to be named Finalists and then have the opportunity to be considered for National Merit Scholarships. Merit Scholar designees are selected on the basis of their skills, accomplishments, and potential for success in rigorous college studies.

Foundation Offers Pollinator Grants to High Schools

By Casey Langan

Sand County Foundation is now accepting applications from high school teachers for pollinator habitat grants. This competitive grant program gives Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin high school students hands-on experience growing native wildflowers and establishing habitat for imperiled insect pollinators and monarch butterflies.

Successful applications will receive prairie seeds and seedlings, a webinar and consultation, and $1,000 to support project expenses. The deadline to apply is November 19, 2021. To apply, visit www.sandcountyfoundation.org/SchoolGrants.

Insect pollinators are essential for crop pollination and ecological diversity. In recent years their numbers are low partly due to loss of native wildflower habitat, especially in the agricultural landscape. Restoring habitat for pollinators is a key component of a regenerative food production system.

“Students will germinate and grow native plants in the greenhouse in late winter and early spring, and manage and monitor the site through the summer,” said Parker Witt, Sand County Foundation agricultural conservation specialist. “We encourage applicants to partner with landowners to establish pollinator habitat on agricultural and other working lands.”

In addition to the grant program, teachers can access a Pollinator Habitat Curriculum Guide. Aligned with state and national education standards, the guide’s activities engage students in planning, establishing, managing and monitoring prairie habitat. The guide is available for free download at <https://bit.ly/2JHdq1u>.

Sand County Foundation is a national non-profit that champions voluntary conservation practices by farmers and ranchers to improve soil, water and wildlife habitat.

Book: “Everything, Everything”; Author: Nicola Yoon
Reviewed by: Alexis Wilson, age 14, Brookfield Academy

“Everything, Everything” by Nicola Yoon documents the life of Madeline Whittier, a teenage girl born with Severe Combined Immunodeficiency (abbreviated as SCID). SCID is a life-threatening disease that basically makes one allergic to countless things. The way that Madeline handles SCID is by being locked away in her house for seventeen whole years. The only way that people or objects can enter the house is through an extensive cleaning routine, and even then Madeline could possibly become ill from their presence. Madeline knows nothing other than her home and the small bit of land that she can see from out of her windows. She has also met very few people in her lifetime, and spends every day with only her mother and her nurse named Carla. That is, until there are new neighbors moving into the next-door house. Madeline quickly catches the eye of a boy her age named Olly. They exchange emails and become friends very quickly, and suddenly Madeline has a new way to learn about the outside world.

“Everything, Everything” is a realistic fiction story, with elements of romance as well. The only thing that I would have changed about the story is the brevity of the chapters, although at times I did like how each chapter was smaller and had a unique formatting. I enjoyed this story because of its interesting plot twists and unique perspective, and anyone who likes stories about personal growth and new beginnings should consider reading “Everything, Everything”.

International Peace Day Reflection

By Caroline Raster, 8th Grade, St. Mary’s Visitation

Today, I want to tell you about the qualities of sustainability, equitability, inclusiveness, justice, and peacefulness, and how we can use them to create a better local community and overall world.

Sustainability, in our world today, refers to the act of keeping the Earth clean and maintaining its natural state and beauty. This means making sure you’re not wasting uneaten food, picking up garbage, and obviously recycling. These examples have been told to us since we were very young but acting on them is important and can have a significant effect on our Earth. But, if I were to define sustainability in a religious sense, I would say that it’s the keeping of one’s beliefs and core values. As a Catholic, it can be hard to form our beliefs based on God’s word and not the media. Sustainability means sustaining the beauty God made from the beginning.

When God made our Earth, he intended for us to use it in a respectful and clean manner. Fair, impartial, and reasonable are good synonyms for the virtue of equity. Today, equity is giving what is due to each person, an example of this is the Wage Gap where some make more per hour than others, for the same work. In recent years, we have begun to change inequity and have given more people more opportunities. Being an equitable Catholic is challenging because God loves all; those who have sinned, those who turn away from Him, and those who do not believe in Him. We as Catholics and humans have trouble grasping this. I don’t know about all of you but I find it challenging to love everyone and treat them equitably. Yet, I will always go on trying to do this in my life.

Inclusiveness is to provide equal opportunities and access to every person. Similar to equitability, inclusiveness relating to current topics and issues means giving equal opportunities in jobs, schooling, and legal matters. As a middle school student this is a hard virtue to follow. At recess, in group projects, and even sports. Including everyone can change the day someone is having in an instant. God did not limit his Scripture and teachings to a certain group of people. So, we should not limit our inclusivity to certain groups either. Everyone is welcome to learn and worship, as we should welcome those who are different from us, even when it may feel uncomfortable at first.

Justice has been a big topic of discussion in the last two years in the United States. This is an important virtue that means giving everyone what they deserve. There is injustice in our world that we may never experience. This does not make it any less important to stand against it in solidarity with those who experience it. As Catholics, we must hold ourselves to this virtue. We must have generous spirits and give everyone the education, food, and clothing they need and deserve.

And lastly, the virtue of peacefulness. The definition of peacefulness is avoiding war or violence. Obviously, this virtue is important, especially for world and country leaders. We must hold them responsible for their actions as they make policy that affects the most vulnerable. In the Church I think that this virtue is a good way to participate in community. In conclusion, these virtues need to be followed in our big wide world, but also in our hearts, minds, and actions for the best recovery from the pandemic and for a better future.

The Spookiest Holiday

By Sandie Go, 4th Grade, Brookfield Christian School

Though all the holidays are fun and you can’t choose the one that’s best, There is one holiday that, it is true, is much unlike the rest. It is a scary holiday, with bones on every street, But the best part is when you walk up and yell, “Trick or treat!” There are skeletons and spooky bats and werewolves all around, And little pumpkins of candy, all waiting to be found. A ghost might jump out and yell, “BOO!” and you’ll get really scared, But it’s worth it to finally get the candy to be shared!

International Peace Day Reflection

By Elizabeth Schmidt, 8th grade, St. Mary’s Visitation

How do you help make our community a more just, equitable, inclusive, sustainable, and peaceful place for all? This was the question we were tasked with answering.

As we recover from the COVID-19 pandemic, we must make an effort to bring about these positive changes in our community. To make our community more just and equitable we must treat everyone we meet with respect and fairness. No matter someone’s religion, race, gender, or background, we are all important members of the community that deserve consideration and dignity. Inclusion is another way to improve our community as we come together once again. It is sometimes easy to stay with what you know and not branch out, but when we include everyone it not only can make them feel significant and wanted, we can learn from the experience and have an enjoyable time.

With so much change in our modern world, we are looking for sustainable solutions for future generations. Making simple lifestyle changes like taking shorter showers or saving food waste can make an impact on our world and respect God’s creation and gifts that he has given to us to show we care. This is a day to pray for peace in not only our lives, but the lives of others around the world. We are all God’s children and he cares for each and every one of us.

“For he himself is our peace, who has made us both one and has broken down his flesh the dividing wall of hostility,” - Ephesians 2:14. This quote means that Jesus came down to unite us and in doing so he died so that we may be saved from sin and oppression. Peace and unity are even more important now after we were all separated from one another during the Coronavirus worldwide pandemic. Volunteering at events like my parish’s Vacation Bible School has taught me how my actions are watched and followed by the younger kids who look up to me for guidance and leadership. I believe that if we practice these virtues of inclusiveness, sustainability, equitableness, and peace in our communities and around the world, we can all live like Jesus intended us to and truly live like the unified Body of Christ. It doesn’t have to be a grand gesture but every kind act makes a difference. Like this quote by F. Genova, “Together we can make the world a better place... one smile, one kind word, one small act at a time.”

Peanut Butter Cookies

By Emily Bastjan
4th Grade, Tonawanda

Do you like cookies but you can’t have most cookies because you have gluten allergies or you are allergic to dairy? Well, these cookies are for you!

Ingredients: 1 cup of peanut butter
1 cup of sugar
1 egg

Instructions:
First, preheat the oven to 350 degrees.
Next grab a mixing bowl.
Then grab a measuring cup.
Next grab a big spoon.
Then get a cookie sheet and put a silpat or parchment paper on it.
To make the dough mix all of the ingredients in the big bowl with the big spoon.
Get an ice cream scoop and scoop one at a time onto the parchment paper or silpat about 2 inches apart.
Then get a fork and make a criss-cross on the top of the cookie, but make sure to put water on the fork so it does not stick
After that, sprinkle a little sugar on top.
Then put them in the oven for about 12 minutes.
Then you have peanut butter cookies... wala!

Pumpkin Takes Over Our Garden

By Dhrupud Dimble
4th Grade, Tonawanda

The pumpkin plant was planted in early June, by late June it was 5 feet. By early July, it was 7 feet long. By late July, it was 18 feet! By early August, it was 20 feet long! By late August, it was almost 30 feet long! But now it’s already 38! It’s already run out of room in the garden and now it’s escaped and is planning to climb on our house! You think that’s rough? You should’ve seen it last year!

But that was my point of view, so here’s an interview with my 5-year-old brother Advay:

Me: When did we plant the pumpkin?
Advay: At the start of summer
Me: Were any of your friends growing pumpkins?
Advay: Yes
Me: Is the pumpkin plant big?
Advay: Yes

Remember when I said that the pumpkin plant is going to climb on our house? Well, it turned around and is heading toward the opposite edge of the deck! But I saw a smaller vine that is growing towards our house! Meanwhile, on the opposite side of the garden, there is a huge pumpkin one and a half feet long!

Living in Harmony with Others

By Madyson Clifton, 8th Grade, Wisconsin Hills Middle School

“Living in harmony with others.” What does that mean? This could mean many different things to many different people. In my personal opinion, living in harmony with others is getting along and being kind towards one another. Living in harmony with others is making the choice to positively affect someone rather than negatively affect them. It is making the realization that everybody is different and you might not agree with what they do or how they live but that’s their choice, and you can’t control them.

Also, living in harmony with others is minding our own business and not inserting yourself where you don’t need to be, and causing other people to be unhappy. Most of all, living in harmony is being a good citizen. Being a good citizen means being respectful and conscious of other people and doing your best to make a positive difference in their lives. So, you can see, living in harmony with others can mean so many different things, but one thing that all of the meanings have in common is to make a positive difference in someone else’s life.

How Are Special Needs Trusts Established?
By Attorney Joanne Leifheit, Pewaukee, WI
Ask@LawOfficeofJL.com (262) 347-2820

(This is Part 2 of a 2-part series)

In Part I of this series (September 2021 edition) on special needs trusts, I discussed what makes a special needs trust "special" (this type of trust is beneficial because it preserves many public benefits for persons with a disability). In this second part, I will explain how special needs trusts (SNTs) are established and how they work.

Persons with a disability may accumulate money and assets of their own that can negatively affect some or all of their public benefits. For example, certain public benefits programs such as SSI (Supplemental Security Income) and Medicaid have strict and low limits on the amount of assets a person may retain to remain on the program ($2,000, for example). Disabled persons may accumulate assets over these limits in many ways, including: (1) through work programs; (2) by having lower expenses than their benefits income; (3) by personal injury settlements; or perhaps (4) by inheritance. If a person with a disability needs to reduce their own assets, he or she (or others, such as parents and grandparents) may establish a SNT for that person, called a "first-party SNT." Likewise, if a family or friend wants to leave an inheritance to a person with a disability, the family member or friend can establish a "third-party SNT." Third-

Trick or Treating
By Jason R. - 4th Grade, Tonawanda

On Halloween night me, my parents, and cousins went trick or treating. Some people gave me bags of candy!!! We walked by my house. My dad dropped my candy off at the house. There was a fake candy graveyard! Evie was a butterfly. I was black panther for Halloween. We walked down the road. I found my classmates. We started walking back home. When we got home my mom went inside and gave us candy.

Be thoughtful, give a person a gift even if they don't give a gift back, be thoughtful.
Be respectful, if somebody is talking to you, don't talk over them, be respectful.
Be helpful, if someone is hurt, help them, be helpful.

Wolf and Rabbit
By Freya H. - 4th Grade, Tonawanda

One day Wolf got really hungry. He decided to look for food! While Wolf was looking around for food, he saw a white fluffy ball by a tree. Wolf went to investigate the fluff ball. And behind the tree Wolf saw... Rabbit! Rabbit was frightened by Wolf. Rabbit started to run while Wolf followed. Rabbit ran and ran all around the woods. Wolf was panting. Rabbit then found a random hole and crawled in. Wolf was angry! He tried to dig a bigger hole in the little hole, but the little hole was too deep. Rabbit was safe! Wolf then got bored of digging and left. Rabbit then crawled out of the hole and looked around. No Wolf! Rabbit sighed in relief. Wolf however was a little impressed and frustrated at Rabbit because of her excellent hiding skills and running so fast. But at least they both lived happily ever after.

How to Make Applesauce
By Teagan Paschke
Grade 4, Tonawanda Elementary

What you need:
4 pounds of apple (preferably honey crisp or granny smith apples) peeled, cored and chopped
¼ cup sugar
1 tablespoon of lemon juice
1 teaspoon of cinnamon or more

What you do:
Combine apples, sugar and one cup of water in a large pot. Bring to a simmer over medium high heat. Stir occasionally. Reduce heat to medium low and cover with a tight-fitting lid. Cook apples until soft, about 18- 20 minutes. Stir in lemon juice and cinnamon. Let cool for 5 minutes then mash with a spoon until desired consistency. Let cool then enjoy.

I love making homemade applesauce, especially when you use fresh-picked apples. I hope you like the recipe.

Halloween
By Alex Habich - 4th Grade, Tonawanda

Halloween! It's a great holiday. Kids get to dress up as whatever they want, going door-to-door getting candy. You might be somebody that leaves out a sign that says take one, two or three or you might be somebody that likes to see the faces of the kids when they say trick or treat. But is Halloween more than that? YES! You can go to a friend's house at night and leave a bag of goodies there and then run and hide, which is called booing and is really fun to do. Also, you might have your own tradition. My tradition is going trick or treating with my neighbors. You can also carve pumpkins. I remember one time my dad carved a witch in my pumpkin. It looked so cool. My favorite part about Halloween is seeing how much candy I collect, then I sort it and trade it with people like my neighbor, Eloise, my brother and my brother's friends. Halloween is a holiday for tradition, scares and fun. Have a happy Halloween!

Halloween Traditions
By Isabel Tendick
4th Grade, Tonawanda

Each year for Halloween we start getting ready a few weeks before. We go to my grandma and grandpa's house to decorate the spooky table. The spooky table is filled with spooky things like brains and fingers floating in water dyed red to look like real blood. We also start to plan our costumes for trick or treat. My cousin Nora and I always have fun coming up with a theme. A few years ago, we were old grandmas together and that was really fun! Also, a few weeks before Halloween we go to the pumpkin patch to pick the most perfect pumpkins to carve for the pumpkin carving contest. My family and I work for hours a few nights before the contest to carve the most creative pumpkin we can think of. Last year, with my dad's help, I carved a porcupine. We drilled holes in the pumpkin and put lights sticking out of the holes. It turned out so great and I even won the contest! On trick or treat night at my grandparents' house, we have a pumpkin carving contest then go trick or treating! Halloween in my family is the best!

The Humane Society
By Brynna Dobbe
4th Grade, Tonawanda

The Humane Society uses money to buy cages for the animals they get every week or so. They have to give the animals that they don't have enough room for shots that make them die peacefully. They don't always have enough room for animals which is why hundreds of animals around the world die every time they don't have enough room for them. And, so, I think that people should donate money to the Humane Society and adopt animals. There are many adorable cats, dogs, guinea pigs, and so on that don't get a good life because they don't have owners who care about them or anyone that they have a special bond with. They are animals that desperately need a loving owner who will feed them every day, walk them, talk to them, love them, and most of all, give them a second chance at life. The shelter thanks everyone who donates or adopts.

We should be grateful for the people who serve the Humane Society. The people who take the dogs in and give them a chance. The saviors who are hardly given credit for the amazing things they do every day for many animals that desperately need someone to protect and care for. So, we ask for money and adoptions to save many animals that need it. I have two dogs at home that I love dearly and hope everyone who adopts a puppy feels the same way.

COVID-19 Update

To find a COVID-19 vaccine location in Wisconsin, visit Vaccines.gov or call 211 or 877-947-2211. As we continue to see cases of COVID-19 rise, it’s also important that we all add layers of protection, like wearing masks and staying home when feeling sick.

Know the Facts: Pfizer COVID-19 Booster Shots

On Friday September 24, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) announced their recommendation that people 65 and older and certain populations who are at high risk of COVID-19 receive a booster shot of the Pfizer vaccine at least six months after the completion of their Pfizer vaccine primary series. This decision follows the authorization by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA).

DHS recommends that the following populations SHOULD receive a booster dose of Pfizer at least 6 months after receiving their second dose of Pfizer in order to further strengthen their immunity:

- People 65 years and older
- All residents in long-term care
- People ages 50-64 years with certain underlying medical conditions

DHS recommends that the following populations MAY receive a booster dose of Pfizer at least 6 months after receiving their second dose of Pfizer vaccine, after considering their individual risks and benefits:

- People ages 18-49 years with certain underlying medical conditions
- People ages 18-64 years who are at increased risk for COVID-19 exposure and transmission because of their job or institutional settings. Occupations at increased risk for COVID-19 exposure and transmission include front line essential workers and health care workers.

Fair Electoral Maps & Voting Procedures Needed

“The Will of the People Shall Be the Law of the Land.” This quote by former Governor Robert LaFollette is enshrined in our State Capitol and reminds us that democracy depends on the ability of the people to exercise their right to vote and that their votes must count.

In our current state of affairs, both these rights are already limited and being further eroded. The gerrymandered electoral maps in Wisconsin and many other states discount millions of votes and create “safe seats” that allow legislators to ignore their constituents. We have seen the effects of this in Wisconsin where the Republican Party has worked much harder to maintain their ill begotten power than to serve the people.

In New York and Illinois, it is the Democratic Party that has promoted gerrymandered maps. Here in Wisconsin, the Republican Party severely rigged the electoral maps in 2011 which cemented their majority. No matter which party rigs the maps, the voters end up being the losers. The ruling party becomes the “law of the land” and voters of both parties become disillusioned when government does not serve them.

In addition to gerrymandering, current Republican leaders are enacting voting restrictions in Wisconsin and across the country that are likely to keep millions of people from voting. And they are doubling down on creating doubt about fair elections, despite evidence that voter fraud is exceedingly rare. We cannot let these threats to our democracy prevail.

If ever there was a time that proves democracy must be fought for, it is now. We have the power to inform our state and federal representatives that we want nothing less than fair electoral maps and conditions that make it easier, not harder, for voters to cast their ballots. And we will only vote for candidates who pledge to meet these expectations.
